POINTS OF INTEREST

1 Brooklands Station: The station is named after Samuel Brooks, a Victorian banker and cotton merchant. Brooks sold the land to the railway company on the understanding that it would be named accordingly.

2 Walkden Gardens: The park is known locally as 'The Secret Garden'. Sale Old Hall's 19th century Dovecoat is a focal point, having been rescued from its original site and reconstructed within the gardens in 2003-04.

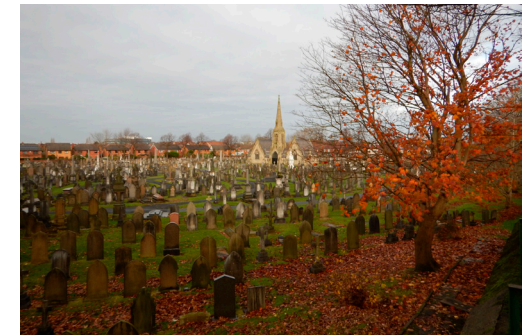

3 Worthington Park: The Park has been popular for recreation since Mrs. Mary Worthington donated the land in 1900. It contains a number of original features, including a bandstand and bronze bust of local physicist, Dr. J.P. Joule.

4 Bridgewater Canal: The Bridgewater Way is often described as England's first canal. Almost 20km of the canal lies within Trafford, connecting residents and visitors to the Trans Pennine Trail.

5 Sale Cemetery: This Victorian cemetery was designed by Manchester architect William Wilson in 1862. Enjoy the 'butterfly' layout of this Grade II listed site.
