POINTS OF INTEREST

1 Duttons Pond: The pond was created from a brickwork clay pit and is popular with Urmston Angling Association. It provides a good spawning ground for toads and excellent foraging habitat for bat species such as the common pipistrelle.

2 Green Hill: The former ash fly tip is one of the highest points in the Mersey valley. On a clear day it is possible to see landmarks such as Winter Hill, Helsby Hill and Kinder Scout.

3 Railway Line: The railway line which runs through park is part of the Liverpool to Manchester line. Opened in 1830, it was the first to rely exclusively on steam power, be fully timetabled and carry mail.

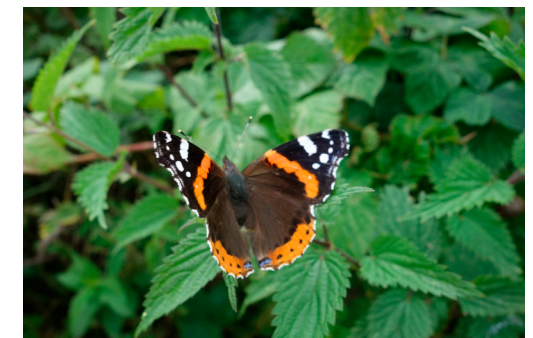

4 Jack Lane Nature Reserve: This small marshland habitat supports a rich variety of wetland birds and other species, including sedge and reed warblers. The old sewage works nearby are an important undisturbed site for wildfowl in winter, and migratory birds in spring and autumn.
